Primax Technologies Policy on Conflict Minerals

To Whom it may concern,

We hereby confirm that efforts are invested to ensure that products we manufacture, and supply are free of Conflict Minerals that may be sourced from Conflict mines.

Primax Technologies Inc. Supply chain is complex and there are multitier between Primax and the mines. We mainly rely on our suppliers and sub-suppliers to provide the needed information on the material used in our products. Because of the complexity of the matter, we focused on direct suppliers that we believe were likely to provide components containing Conflict Minerals.

Consequently, we are committed to take reasonable efforts to identify the components which may contain Conflict Minerals and work with our suppliers in order that they avoid any material containing Conflict Minerals.
